

Efthymios Papastavridis

LL.M. (UCL), Ph.D. (UCL); Postdoctoral Researcher and Teaching Assistant in International Law, Faculty of Law & Fellow, Athens Public International Law Center – Athens PIL, National & Kapodistrian University of Athens; Researcher and Part-time Lecturer at the Faculty of Law of University of Oxford, and Oxford Martin Fellow at the Oxford Martin School, University of Oxford since April 2016; Research Fellow at the Academy of Athens, Bureau of International Relations, under the supervision of Professor Emmanuel Roucouas, since 2010; Senior Legal Consultant, UN Office on Drugs AND Crime (UNODC) Global Maritime Crime Programme; Research Associate, Hellenic Foundation for European & Foreign Policy – ELIAMEP.

Formerly Expert Counsellor on Public International Law at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Greece (2016-2019); Part-time Lecturer at the Faculty of Law, Democritus University of Thrace (2010-2017) and Post-doctoral Fellow at the Faculty of Law, National and Kapodistrian University of Athens (2012-2015); and Director of the Centre for Research Studies of The Hague Academy of International Law (2012).

Dr Papastavridis is the author of three monographs, including The Use of Force in Afghanistan under International Law (Athens 2004), Interception of Vessels on the High Seas (Hart Publishing, 2013), The Protection of Shipping from Transnational Organized Crime (Athens, 2015); co-author of Public International Law Concentrate (Oxford University Press, 2013); editor of two collected volumes; and author of several chapters in books and numerous articles.